Attention Cathy Carr

Gentlemen:

The West Virginia Chiefs of Police Association holds its monthly meetings at the Days Hotel Sutton Flatwoods. As President of this organization, I work closely with their catering department in making preparations for these meetings which may include accommodations, meals, conference rooms, and set up for training.

It is a pleasure to work with the staff at the Days Hotel. They are professional, knowledgeable, and always go the extra mile to accommodate our requests. Their rooms are well lit and comfortable, and the staff always makes our members feel welcome.

The Days Hotel is centrally located and convenient for the other Chiefs who must travel from departments throughout West Virginia. I would recommend their facilities to any organization looking for quality service at an affordable price.

Sincerely,

Chief Kevin M. Gessler, Sr.
President

West Virginia Chiefs of Police Association
